INSTALLATION TIPS

This aluminum radiator is a direct replacement for the plastic OEM unit. Our engineering team designed this radiator with an increased core size for improved cooling efficiency. In doing so, fitment is slightly altered compared to the stock unit.

Please see notes below regarding the variance you can expect upon installation.

UPPER RADIATOR SHROUD POP CLIP FITMENT

Due to the added thickness of the Mishimoto radiator, 4X pop clips on the upper radiator shroud will no longer be used (notated in the image below). Despite this, the shroud remains secure to the vehicle and will not cause any issues with vibration/noise during operation.

RADIATOR CAP TO UPPER SHROUD FITMENT

Due to the added height of the radiator, the radiator cap rubs slightly on the upper shroud. This will cause no appreciable damage to the shroud or cap, nor does it result in any in-cabin noise or vibrational issues. There is potential for wear of the radiator cap finish in the long term, but this will not affect the integrity or functionality. If you wish, you may cut the shroud in this area to prevent rubbing. In performing this modification, you will also gain easier access to the cap for future refilling of engine coolant.

We hope you enjoy your new performance aluminum radiator!
